LOS ANGELES — Diversity rankings from two national, legal publications once again recognized Best Best & Krieger LLP as one of the best law firms for minorities and women.

In its 2018 Diversity Scorecard, American Lawyer Media placed BB&K at No. 5 for Firms with the Highest Percentage of Minority Partners, moving up seven spaces from last year, and No. 4 for Firms with the Highest Percentage of Hispanic Attorneys.

Meanwhile, Law360's 2018 Glass Ceiling Report ranked BB&K as No. 4 for both Best Mid-Size Law Firms for Women and Best Mid-Size Law Firms for Female Partners.

"BB&K's diversity arises out of its commitment to serving its clients," said Managing Partner Eric Garner. "The only way that we can provide the solutions our clients need is through having a diverse workforce."

"Inclusivity is the backdrop behind all our professional recruitment and development activities," added Partner Danielle Sakai, who oversees recruiting for the firm. "It's exciting to be a part of a movement that strengthens the firm by bringing broader perspectives and stronger connections to our clients, the people who work at BB&K and our community."

At BB&K, equality and inclusion are mandated and emphasized at every level of the firm.
